GOSPEL PEARLS

21_01_2022

ark 3, 13-19)

The twelve apostles, were the first to be sent on a mission by Jesus to preach the gospel to others. The Son of God entrusts Himself to a few select men to continue His work of preaching and conversion. Even the first apostles were initially weak and had their faults. The list begins with Peter denying Jesus during the Passion and ends with Judas betraying Him, while the others abandoned Him. Yet, after the Resurrection and Pentecost, the power of the Holy Spirit transformed these men from within to become the generous and courageous witnesses that we Christians still depend on today. Indeed, the Church is apostolic and could not be otherwise.
